

15th Annual Meeting

February 11 – 17, 2004 ● Astor Crowne Plaza ● New Orleans, Louisiana

Practical Workshop
February 11 – 14, 2004

Scientific Meeting
February 14 – 17, 2004

Highlights

- ◆ Hands-on Practical Workshop with International Faculty
- ◆ Master's Demonstrations of Surgical Techniques
- ◆ International Forum from Experts from Around the World
- ◆ Panels, Symposia, Keynote Addresses
- ◆ Industry Forum of Technical Advances in Instrumentation
- ◆ Continuous Video Sessions throughout the Conference
- ◆ Breakfast Sessions with Experts and Proffered Papers in All Subspecialties

Invitation from the President

On behalf of the membership of the North American Skull Base Society, I would like to extend to you a personal invitation to New Orleans. The exciting city of New Orleans offers wonderful weather in February, outstanding cuisine, terrific entertainment in the French Quarter, and above all, unforgettable Southern hospitality. In addition, there will be an exciting, interesting, and informative scientific program, consisting of a practical course with cadaver dissection and demonstrations by experts followed by the regular scientific meeting with keynote addresses, panels, symposia, proffered papers, posters and video presentations. I look forward to seeing you next February.

With best wishes.

Jatin P. Shah, M.D.
President